EARLY COLLEGE PROGRAM

Partnership between the Tustin
Unified School District and
Irvine Valley College

What is the Early College Program?

- A partnership between TUSD and IVC that allows students to dual enroll in classes at Tustin High Schools and Irvine Valley College
- Students complete their high school diploma and earn two years of college credit for an Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) Certification

Benefits of the program

- Students earn transferable college credit toward their lower division general education requirements for the UC and CSU college system
- Reduces cost of postsecondary education
- Students experience IVC
- IVC receives FTES funding

Program Overview

- Students take two IVC classes each summer, beginning their incoming freshman year
- During the regular school year, students take four TUSD classes and two IVC classes each semester
- Students have the opportunity to participate in other HS campus programs including Model United Nations, athletics, and band

Enrollment

- The application process includes teacher recommendations, a minimum of a 3.0 GPA, a writing sample, and principal approval
- Students must enroll during the beginning of their freshman year

Participation

- Beckman High School
 - 34 students in first cohort
 - Graduate in 2011
 - 30 students in second cohort
 - Graduate 2012
- Tustin High School
 - 32 in first cohort
 - Graduate in 2012
 - Second cohort begins this summer
 - Graduate in 2013

Participation

- El Toro High School (new partner)
 - Cohort begins this summer
 - Graduate in 2013

Participation Summary

- With all three High Schools in operation
 - 8 sections of courses at each High School
 - 24 total sections offered

Success
